

I have been an Active Union member since joining Australia Post in 2010 and before then in other workplaces in the Public and Private Sector. I have been serving on CWU Victorian Branch Committee for about 6 years. I work in Retail in the Northern Suburbs as a Relieving Staff member across about 12 different workplaces. I am active in recruiting new members and with day to day issues on the Shopfloor including OH&S. In retail we have contact with Delivery and Transport and importantly the public who rely on the service. This has given me a broad insight to issues across what is happening in Delivery, Transport, Call Centres and smaller pockets of Australia Post. I want to continue to be a part of educating members to find their own power and voice when faced with adversity supported by a strong and active branch.

I would be honoured to serve the broader membership with my experience by continuing to serve on Branch Committee. You can revitalise your Branch office by supporting the Union Active team.
